German, But Not Hitler's

There were plenty of curious spectators on hand today at the Army Base to see what was reported to be Hitler's private armored train. But, when the time came for unloading the train from the S. S. Wallace Tyler, they found only a regular German diner and two pullman-type cars. Here's the diner being loaded on a flat lighter by giant cranes. The cars will be taken to Ft. Monroe, Va.

Pearl Harbor Gag Assailed

By WILLIAM THEIS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (INS)—Rep. Frank Keefe (R.) of Wisconsin, a member of the Pearl Harbor investigating committee, charged in the House today that "there are interests involved in this investigation that do not want the truth." Keefe devoted a speech entirely to a resume of the efforts of Rep. Bertrand Gearhart (R.) of California, and himself, to interview Navy Capt. Alwin D. Kramer, described as a "key" witness in the forthcoming public hearings into the Pearl Harbor tragedy.

He recounted circumstances surrounding Kramer's confinement at the Bethesda Naval Hospital neuro-psychiatric word, and the obstacles placed before himself and Gearhart in their efforts to interview him.

"From the record," Keefe declared, "I am convinced that the Navy Department and the higher ups in Washington fully realize the importance to be attached to the testimony of Capt. Kramer. I am fully convinced that efforts were made to get Capt. Kramer to modify and change portions of the testimony that he had given before the Navy board of inquiry."

Keefe, standing by his statement that Kramer "was badbered and beset" by efforts to "break down" the testimony, declared Mrs. Kramer, the captain's wife, had been summoned from Miami by naval physicians who were unable to diagnose "what was bothering him, making his recovery less rapid."

After coming to Washington, Keefe quoted Mrs. Kramer as stating that the naval captain "was worrying because of the Pearl Harbor incident and worrying because of the efforts that had been made to have him modify or change his testimony."

"I am completely satisfied," Keefe asserted, "that the basic cause of Capt. Kramer's worry arises from the efforts which have been made to have him change certain vital and important parts of his testimony."

Keefe read into the congressional record Kramer's statement that he had not been 'beset or beleaguered" or that he was held "incommunicado."

Keefe recounted that Kramer was "ordered" to the hospital as a patient in ward "N-5," which he said was a neuropsychiatric ward, on Sept. 28 and that his uniform was taken from him and his meals served in the ward.

During the time he was a patient there, Keefe declared, the hospital had records of only one visitor for Kramer, a Capt. Safford, one of Kramer's associates in the Far Eastern intelligence division of the Navy.

Keefe then told of how Kramer had been granted liberty" for the first time Nov. 8, and his absence from the hospital when he and Gearhart went there for the first time to interview him.

"It is perhaps a coincidence that when he returned to the hospital the next morning, Capt. Kramer appeared in uniform which had been returned to him the day before for the first time since Sept. 28," Keefe said.

First witnesses to testify before the committee tomorrow will be Rear Adm. T. B. Inglis and Col. Bernard Thielsen, neither of whom were at Pearl Harbor when the Japs made the sneak attack Dec. 7, 1941.

State Churchmen Urge Big 3 A-Bomb Parley

Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts made public today a resolution urging President Truman to invite Great Britain and Russia immediately to a conference to control the atomic bomb and "make available to all people the peacetime benefits of atomic energy."

The group, the Massachusetts Clerical Ass'n, also advocated that "a domestic policy for the control and development of atomic energy, in harmony with an international system of control and cooperation, be established by the President and Congress, providing for scientific freedom and a peacetime utilization of atomic energy in the interests of the people as a whole."

Reds Report Atom Progress

MOSCOW, Nov. 14 (AP)—Highly important discoveries which may well have a direct bearing on Russian explorations in the field of atomic energy were reported today from Mt. Alagos on the shores of Lake Karagey in the Armenian Socialist Republic.

The government newspaper Izvestia said an expedition engaged in studying cosmic rays has discovered "a number of heavy protons, the kernel of atomic hydrogen."

Izvestia said the current work began last August, the month in which the first atomic bomb was dropped on Japan by the U. S. Air Forces.

Palestine Bus Drivers Stoned in Protest Strike

JERUSALEM, Nov. 14 (AP)—Several hundred Jewish youths stoned bus drivers today in protest against continued operation of their vehicles during a 12-hour strike called by Jews at noon. The strike was to protest new British proposals for settling the Palestine problem.

The stone-throwing was the only incident immediately reported.

Traffic was diverted down side streets and police stood by.

Officials apparently were taking no extraordinary precautionary measures. The usual official guards were posted at the government buildings in Jerusalem and Tel Aviv.

All Jewish shops, restaurants, workshops and factories were closed and Jewish-operated buses and taxis stopped.

Jewish workers in essential services were requested to continue work in military camps, hospitals, postoffices, telegraph and broadcasting stations as well as at the Tel Aviv harbor, where the first cargo ship to arrive since 1940 began discharging merchandise.

The people of Palestine eagerly studied British Foreign Secy. Ernest Bevin's statement. A number of mass meeting demonstrations were planned in Palestine towns during the afternoon.

There was widespread objection throughout Palestine to Bevin's statement that Britain and the United States jointly would attempt to solve the problem, and to his intimation that eventually Palestine would be placed under a trusteeship.

Britain at present governs Palestine under a League of Nations mandate.

The Jewish elected assembly, made up of representatives of all Palestine political parties, will meet Nov. 19 in Jerusalem to discuss the British statement.

The Jewish press generally assailed the Bevin statement. The Palestine Post said it failed "to deal squarely with President Truman's repeated proposals that 100,000 Jews should be admitted to Palestine immediately."

Arab newspapers also were critical. The Moslem Arab newspaper Al-Difah typified comment with the opinion that the statement was unfair to Arabs, and that Arabs would not consent to its stipulations.

JAIL ESCAPEE HUNTED

State and local police today were conducting a search for Richard E. Squires, 17, of Wyoming st., Malden, serving an 18-month term at Dedham jail for larceny, who escaped while working as a trusty at the Dedham courthouse.

Indonesion Rebels Lose Suicide Fight

BATAVIA, Nov. 14 (AP)—Fighting raged in Soerabaja today and in Batavia British Maj. Gen. D. C. Hawthorn accused the commander of the Japanese 16th Army and his chief of staff of having deliberately handed over arms to "unruly elements" in Java.

A dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Vern Haugland in Soerabaja said British Indian troops battling in the heart of the naval base hurled back three suicidal Indonesian attacks during the night, killing more than 100 and sustaining a half dozen casualties of their own in fighting for the Kota railway station and freight yards.

The British threw a 25-pounder barrage against Indonesians entrenched in prewar Dutch-built concrete pillboxes in the area.

Haugland reported the British moving slowly in order to keep their casualties low, and that it might take the better part of this week to clear out the remaining half of Soerabaja still in Nationalist hands.

2d Honolulu Riot Averted

HONOLULU, Nov. 14 (AP)—City and military police rushed to the naval air station last night after the military police telephoned civil authorities that sailors were congregating near the gates.

Fearful of a repetition of Monday night's riots in which 1500 service personnel and many civilians broke windows and inflicted scores of minor injuries, the combined police forces dispersed the crowd.

Headless Body Salem Mystery

The headless body of Frank Jaworski, 63-year-old shoe worker, of Essex st., Salem, whose eccentricity it was to carry and flash large sums of money, was discovered this morning in a thicket of Middleton Hill, Lynnfield, near the Sagamore Golf Club, under circumstances which drew the state's most skilled criminologists into a murder probe.

Associate Medical Examiner John W. P. Murphy of Peabody said the torso had lain there more than three weeks and that its position made him suspicious of foul play.

Within two hours after the body was found an investigation was launched by Dist. Atty. Hugh A. Cregg, Dr. Frank Walker, State Police chemist; Dr. Walter Jetter, state pathologist, and State Police, including Lt. Raymond Foley of Gregg's office, as well as Capt. Joseph Ferrari.

State Police fingerprint experts and photographers were also sent to the scene.

John A. Connolly of Home st., Malden, a recently discharged Navy man, discovered the body while hunting soon after 8 a. m. It was 80 feet into the woods off Main st., not far from the Peabody line. Connolly ran back to the road and hailed a pedestrian who summoned police while Connally remained at the woods entrance to guide them.

Acting Chief William Foley and Patrolman Chilton Hastings found evidence that Jaworsky might have been the victim of an incredibly savage murder. A thorough search of the area failed to unearth the man's head. His belt had been removed and draped over his shoulders. His trousers had slipped up as though he had been dragged into the thicket by his feet. He was lying on his stomach, under him a jacket containing papers which led to his identity.

Although Jaworski rarely had been known to be without money and often carried as much as $300 with him, his wallet was empty of bills. In view of the fact that he delighted to show his roll, police leaned more toward the murder theory than to the possibility his death had been caused by a hit-and-run driver.

Jaworski would have had little reason to be walking along that isolated part of Main st. so far from his home, members of his family said.

He was identified by a son, Edward, who worked with him at the Ivory System, Peabody, an athletic equipment repair firm, and by a brother, John, both of Salem. Tentative identification was made through papers found in his clothing.

Jaworski had been alive as late as Sept. 21, police established. In his pocket they found a dated receipt for money he had paid the Salem clerk of courts, through a probation officer, in connection with a domestic rift.

State Police collected samples of the dirt under te body for examination at the Harvard laboratory.

Meanwhile Medical Examiner Murphy was preparing to conduct an autopsy.

It was learned Jaworski had been living alone for some time. He was known to fellow employes as a taciturn man who volunteered no information about his life outside of the plant.

Salem police said no report that he was missing had been communicated to them.

Officials of the Ivory System recollected that he had spoken to them, shortly before he vanished, of taking a vacation, but no definite date had been set. When he failed to appear at work as usual it was assumed he had taken the matter into his own hands, although he was known as a conscientious worker and not given to impulsive actions.

Connolly, the hunter, said he discovered the body shortly after 8 a. m. He said: "It was such an awful sight, headless like that, that I didn't linger. I just ran as fast as I could back to the road and stopped a man going by, so he could bring the police while I waited to show them."

Connolly, who was a chief boatswain's mate, served with the Navy in the Pacific for three years.

Expulsion Threat Ends Walkout Over Teacher

Striking Hyde Park High School students returned to classes today after Headmaster Dr. Francis J. Horgan appeared on t he front steps of the school and told them unless they returned they would be expelled.

The pupils who walked out in protest over proposed transfer of Miss Helen Moran, attractive girl teacher, have disbanded their strike committees and school activities are normal, Dr. Horgan stated.

Miss Moran, salesmanship and merchandising teacher with a temporary rating, was scheduled to be transferred to an East Boston school yesterday. She was to be replaced by Ann C. Hernon, who ranks in seniority. The transfer has been deferred until Dec. 3.

Miss Moran was at her desk today when her class appeared. Supt. of Schools Arthur L. Gould announced the temporary teacher would be given a hearing next Monday at 5 p. m.

Despite decision to call off the strike, pupils today was still incensed at School Committeeman Clement A. Norton's reference to a "lunatic fringe" when he addressed them in the school hall yesterday. Some of the students reported they had demanded Norton apologize.

Supt. Gould issued a statement which was authorized by the school committee. It said:

"The school committee, on the recommendation of the superintendent, authorized the appointment of an additional teacher in the salesmanship classes of the city at a meeting held Oct. 31.

"This appointment was to take effect Nov. 13, 1945, but the teacher appointed could not be released from her present position until Dec. 1.

"The superintendent followed the usual policy of going to the No. 4 high school certificate list, which is the highest certificate list for appointment to high schools. Ann C. Hernon was No. 1 on this list and her name was submitted, and approved by the school committee.

"Temporary teachers are transferred when permanent appointments are made. It is planned to assign Miss Moran to East Boston, where there is a temporary vacancy."

In his threat of punitive action, Supt. Gould warned that parents of children under 16 who remained on strike would be liable to legal prosecution.

The school switchboard was flooded with calls from parents checking to make sure sons and daughters had reported to classes and were not still carrying on their strike.

Hips Are Coming In, Gals; Now You Can Eat Dessert

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (AP)—If one fashion designer's predictions come true, gals, you can stop smiling weakly and declining the desserts.

A costume which Edward Evans, Chicago designer, says forecasts the style trend, not only emphasizes the hips—it emphasizes them at knee level.

Evans' dream—or nightmare, as you wish—is a basically slim-skirted, rather plain black "dressy" dress, with a hemline about 3½ inches below the knee. But superimposed on the plain dress is an exaggerated tunic reminiscent of George Washington's tailcoat, flared wildly at each side and about three-quarter length.

The forecast was presented at a lecture by Miss Ruth Hatfield, of Chicago Fashion Industries. She said:

"The mood of the future will be one of complete, gracious femininity, and designers will make a lavish use of fabric. Long full skirts are specific predictions."

2 Gunmen Grab $1800 In Medford

Two armed bandits today held up and robbed a messenger delivering the payroll of the Northern Steel Co., Medford, and escaped with more than $1800.

Frederick Rufo, 32, steel heater at the plant, told police the men confronted him as he parked his car in the company lot.

After snatching the payroll, sorted into 43 envelopes, the pair ran to a car parked in Gibson ave. and sped away.

He said a gunman appeared at each side of his auto as he returned from the First National Bank with the cash. One ordered him to hand over the payroll and car keys.

Rufo supplied the registration of the getaway auto. Check disclosed it had been reported stolen yesterday in Medford.

According to officials, employes are paid by check and then choose one of their fellow workers to take the checks to the bank for cash. A different workers is chosen each week, the employes said.

Employes reported they saw two men sitting in a car near the plant for more than an hour before the holdup.

One of the thieves was described as about 35, five feet seven inches, 170 pounds, with light reddish hair and wearing a felt hat and garbardine topcoat.

Car Price Plan Hit in Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—OPA's new automobile pricing policies were criticized in the House today with Rep. Taber (R.) of New York, accusing Price Chief Chester Bowles of trying to create price control "on a racketeering basis."

Rep. Hebert (D.) of Louisiana put a statement in the record saying Bowles is using "pressure tactics" with Congress, and declaring, "it's about time that the American people wake up and bowl Chester Bowles out.

Approximately 100 members of the House and Senate filed auto pricing views with the House Small Business Committee.

The committee, headed by Rep. Patman (D.) of Texas, is inquiring into OPA's plan to require car dealers to absorb part or all price increases granted manufacturers.

OPA, which says this will hold new auto retail prices near 1942 levels, is expected to announce new car prices for some manufacturers tomorrow.

In the House flare-up Taber declared:

"Chester Bowles appeared before the small business committee of the House yesterday and tried to cover up his incompetency to deal with pricing automobiles by accusing dealers of putting pressure on him.

"He did not in the slightest degree attempt to justify his method of pricing because it was right. The dealers, when they presented their case, based it upon what was the right thing to do.

"Never in the world will we be able to have any continuance of price control on a racketeering basis such as Mr. Bowles has been trying to create. He is hiding behind an allegation of pressure to escape facing the issues and doing the right thing."

Attlee's Plea Fails to Score

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Several legislators said today that if Prime Minister Attlee is seeking to sell this country on the idea of a loan to Britain he made only a little headway by visiting Capitol Hill.

Others expressed belief a loan will be made.

Members who heard Attlee address a joint meeting of Congress yesterday, and commented to newsmen, later seemed impressed by the British leader's frankness. But there was a sharp division of opinion on his labor government's objectives.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Republican steering committee, who favors a loan to Britain, said he felt Attlee's explanation of the objectives of the British Labor Government hadn't helped much.

"He sounded a little too New Dealish for some people," Taft told a reporter.

Body of Woman Found in Charles

The body of a woman about 27 years old was taken today from the Charles river basin by Metropolitan District Police, who discovered it floating 30 feet from shore opposite Exeter st., Back Bay.

The victim was 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighed 115 pounds, was wearing a grey herringbone coat, a one-piece red flannel suit, and silk stockings. The body is now at the Northern Mortuary.

Bay State Auto Dealers Resent Bowles Charge

E. I. Ofgant, president of the Massachusetts State Automobile Dealers Ass'n today issued the following statement after a meeting of 12 directors of the organization at the Hotel Statler.

"Mr. Bowles' statement in regard to their lobbying for additional profits has irked the dealers of Massachusetts. This statement is wholly unfounded. In fact the dealers ask for nothing more than they have always had and are definitely entitled to.

"The 35,000 dealers in this country are small business men who in most cases have inviested their extra life savings in a business which has had its ups and downs—and the last few years mostly downs.

"Now that new cars are once more available they have an opportunity to get back on their feet again. This is certainly no time for Mr. Bowles to take an arbitrary stand and refuse the dealer his customary margin of profit.

"The automobile dealers of America have done a remarkable job in keeping the wheels of transportation rolling during the war period. Is Mr. Bowles proposed cut in the dealers' margin of profit the reward they are entitled to?

"At the hearings on the subject of auto prices now being held in Washington the largest number of congressmen ever recorded have attended, showing their interest in the problem.

"The Massachusets State Automobile Dealers' Ass'n is vitally interested in seeing that the dealers of this state have their interests protected."

Big E Now Ready For Transport Job

Her huge hangar deck converted into sleeping quarters for 4400 men, the battle-scarred carrier Enterprise today was being readied for her first trip to Europe as a troop transport in the drive to hasten return of GIs.

Capt. William L. Rees, USN, commander of the Big E, said the ship will leave South Boston Navy Yard Annex tomorrow on her first transport trip.

The troop accommodations were installed by more than 1000 workmen employed day and night since Nov. 1, when she reached Boston. They were still working on her today, putting finishing touches on the alterations.

The bunks are lined up in tiers of five, with a cleared space in the middle of the deck which will be used as a mess hall.

Special provisions are made for transporting service women. Eighty-six bunks have been set up beneath the hangar deck, assuring returning nurses or WACs of privacy.

Com. Charles Boundy, supply officer, said 600 tons of food were aboard, including hundreds of turkeys and fixin's, since the ship will be at sea on Thanksgiving Day. He said the provisions allowed for a 12-day voyage.

The flight deck, once the scene of dramatic plane takeoffs and returns, will be used as a playing field by GIs. Footballs, baseballs, and other sports equipment are included in the ship's supplies.

A Navy crew of 1500 in place of the wartime compiement of 2400 will operate the huge vessel. Practically all are replacements, since her war crew included many high-point men discharged or awaiting discharge.

The Enterprise, former flagship of Adm. William "Bull" Halsey, will remain in transport service indefinitely, and then be preserved as a national shrine by order of President Truman.

Her preservation as a symbol of America's naval might followed a campaign by the Hearst papers to save her from the scrap heap.

'Dream Boy' Sulks as Woman Lover Leaves

OROVILLE, Cal., Nov. 14 (INS)—Mrs. Eleanor Deveny, latest young matron to succumb to the irresistible charm of 16-year-old Ellsworth "Sonny" Wisecarver, unceremoniously started back to Long Beach leaving her acknowledged "dream boy" in a sulking spell. The shapely 24-year-old mother of two children, whose husband is serving with the American Occupation Forces in Japan, was bundled into an automobile by a family delegation consisting of father, brother and two sisters. All declined further comment.

Mrs. Deveny left her two small children in Long Beach last week and traveled by bus to Oroville with soft-spoken, dark-haired Ellsworth, who at 14 had eloped with another married woman who also abandoned two children to become the wife of the teen-aged Lothario in a torrid romance which ended with their arrest in Denver.

"He's very passionate, and so am I," sighed Mrs. Deveny, as she posed for pictures.

Thus was the technique of a dark-haired, modest and dignified youth's love making explained by the bobby sox clad woman.

Held without charge, Mrs. Deveny spoke freely.

"He is gentle. He was good to me. His kisses are soft and sweet. You just want more."

She explained that Sonny's "approach" made him the "guy that every girl dreams about and seldom finds."

Her chief concern was when she could see him again and whether they could go back to Long Beach together.

Probation Officer Jerry Jones admitted that Ellsworth was anxious to see his latest love. He said that before "Sonny" went to sleep last night he said he still loves her and wants to marry her.

A year and a half ago, at 14, "Sonny" eloped to Yuma, Ariz., and married Mrs. Elaine Monfredi, 21. The marriage was annulled and both were placed on probation.

"Sonny," who sits and sulks in his juvenile detention quarters, doesn't like the whole business at all, wants to know why he can't lead his own life and why people keep "telling me what to do."

The adult-looking youth grudgingly admitted that he and Mrs. Deveny arrived in Oroville Friday and registered as man and wife in a local hotel.

Newest Lenses Made of Plastics

Precision molding of lenses and other optical elements from plastics, eliminating the need for slow and costly grinding and polishing, was revealed today as a wartime development by the Polaroid Corp. of Cambridge, in conjunction with the Army and Navy Departments.

The statement said the plastic lenses and prisms have been used in telescopes, binoculars, gun sights and an experimental aerial camera.

A camera lens of unusual shape, reported to be 10 times faster than the F-2 lens, has been produced.

The plastic lenses are on a mass production basis, the statement added.

Throng Awaiting Miracle 'Vision' Promised to Boy, 9

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (INS)—The vanguard of a crowd expected to exceed last night's 20,000 converged on a vacant lot in the Bronx early today to watch a 9-year-old boy kneel and pray before what he declares is an apparition of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Jos. Vitolo, Jr.

Each night for the past 16, the lad, Joseph Vitolo, Jr., has reported he has seen the vision on a rocky ledge in the stone-littered lot.

Joseph said the apparition had promised him "something wonderful" would happen at tonight's visitation. The vision appears to the boy, he claims, during the hour from 7 to 8 p. m. nightly. By midmorning today 1000 persons were standing about the scene.

Twenty police held the crowd of 20,000 in check last night, and closed off three-quarters of the wide Grand Concourse, which parallels the lot.

The boy, described by his friends as a religious and serious but perfectly normal child, said the apparition had told him a well would appear in the lot on the 17th night.

Crowds had milled about in an effort to touch Joseph's hands or garments. They have set up banks of votive lights and statuettes, and have covered the hillside with flowers.

Out-of-state cars have been on hand nightly to witness the boy kneeling in prayer, and even chartered buses from as far away as Philadelphia have been seen.

JAMES P. KERRIGAN, 29
Identified in Police Lineup
INP by Bill Jones

Youth Admits Fatal Stabbing

Less than 24 hours after Thomas J. Murphy, 23, Bronze Star war veteran, of Hampden st., Roxbury, was fatally stabbed during a brawl outside a South End cafe, detectives early today arrested a 19-year-old Negro and later announced he had confessed the stabbing, claiming self defense.

Held as a material witness was another Roxbury Negro, 27, who admitted he was involved in the brawl.

Acting on a tip from a waitress at the cafe, Sgts. Charles W. Hewitt and Daniel F. Donovan, with Special Officers Bart Spellman and William Lee, all from the Warren ave. station, went to the suspected stabber's home in Roxbury and arrested him in bed.

Slapping Autoist Given 30 Days

Mrs. Annie O'Riley of Otos st., Cambridge, said she wasn't hurt too badly when an automobile backed into her, but when the driver swore at her and slapped her face, that was too much.

She told the story in East Cambridge court today when Harry Rothenberg, 44, of Maybrook st., Dorchester, was found guilty of charges of disturbing the peace, using profane language and assault and battery on Mrs. O'Riley.

Patrolman Henry McCarthy said Rothenberg told him to "mind your own damned business" when he tried to smooth out the situation.

Judge Stone sentenced Rothenberg to 30 days in jail and set bond at $300 when he appealed. Rothenberg did not take the stand.

9 Identify Kerrigan as Gun Bandit

James P. Kerrigan, 29, of Jamaica Plain, State Prison parolee, today was identified by nine victims of recent holdups as the armed man who robbed them.

Four others, including a girl clerk in a Roxbury beverage company, said Kerrigan "looked like" the robber but were "not sure."

First to point to the tall, well-dressed suspect, standing amid nine detectives, was Charles Pratt of Glenmont rd., Brighton, manager of the Egyptian Theater, Brighton, robbed of $1360 on Oct. 7. A theater employe, John Matson of Wilmington st., Dorchester, said Kerrigan resembled the hold-up man, but said he was "not sure."

Paul McCarthy of Calumet st., Roxbury, owner of McCarthy Bros. Milk Co., Roxbury, picked Kerrigan as soon as he entered the lineup room. He said Kerrigan held him up in his office and escaped with $1500.

Three employes of a Howard Johnson restaurant in Medford said Kerrigan was the man who robbed the place of $3100.

John J. Malloy and Thomas J. Higgins, bartenders, identified Kerrigan as one of two men who held up and robbed them of $1240 in Malloy's tavern in Columbia rd., Dorchester.

Herman J. Prasse of Dunster rd., Jamaica Plain, owner of Brookline music and radio shop in Harvard ave., and Thomas O'Brien of the Food Center, Inc., Brookline, also pointed to Kerrigan as the gunman who robbed their stores.

Betty Lieber, clerk in the Laurel Club Beverage Co., Roxbury, and Josepeh Keezer, Allston store owner, said they were "not sure" Kerrigan was involved in robberies at those places.

Kerrigan denied knowing Arthur E. Stegeman, 27, of Jamaica Plain, sought as his alleged accomplice. He said he had seen Stegeman's pictures in newspapers but anyone who said they were pals "must be enemies of mine."

Kerrigan was arrested in Providence Nov. 6 as he sat in an auto that police said was stolen. He was charged with possession of a loaded revolver.

Lt. Crowley said more holdup victims will look over Kerrigan tomorrow.

McCLOY RESIGNS POST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—President Truman today accepted the resignation of John J. McCloy, assistant secretary of war, effective Nov. 24.

Mrs. Conant Tops Cambridge Poll

Cambridge school committee candidates Cora Butler Conant, Bradley Dewey, Margaret Kelleher, Russell Wood and Thomas P. O'Neill are reported leading a field of 14 candidates in an unofficial first count made today.

The first official count for the six positions to be filled is expected to be completed by tomorrow evening or Friday morning, according to Director Thomas Hartnett. It is estimated that 4622 votes will be the quota necessary for the successful candidates.

Mrs. Conant, seeking a third term, is credited with 4502 first choices, in the unofficial count, closely followed by Bradley Dewey, who, in the same count is said to have 4051 first choices.

TO COME HERE—Known as one of the four greatest composers of religious music in America, Dr. Harvey B. Gaul, nationally-known organist and lecturer, will become music director at St. Paul's Cathedral in Boston shortly after the first of the year. He resigned a similar post in Pittsburgh after serving 35 years.

Taxicab Shakedown Charged

The man who wants to drive a cab in Boston "is shaken down for $2000," according to a charge hurled by Rep. Louis Lobel, Boston Republican, today at a State House hearing at which the Public Utilities Commission was urged to increase the number of cab licenses in the Hub.

Police Comr. Thomas F. Sullivan, whose department issues the taxicab medallions, was among the 125 persons who heard the charge in Gardner Auditorium, but made no immediate comment.

Lobel insisted that transfer of existing medallions is made on the basis of a $2000 payment. This came after the commisisoner had argued in favor of increasing the number of licenses from 1338—a limit set by former Police Comr. Joseph F. Timilty—to 1525.

Sullivan said the new medallions would help returning vets to go into business.

Comr. Sullivan and Rep. David M. Cleary of Charlestown both said that there was pressing need for more taxis in Boston.

Sullivan said many conventions, including the VSW meeting here next year, call for an increased number of cabs, while Cleary said better cab transportation would help in development of both the Port of Boston and the Logan International Airport.

By Associated Press

Nation's idle because of labor disputes totals about 270,000, slight drop since yesterday. Major developments:

STEEL—United States Steel Corp. rejects Labor Secretary Schwellenbach's second appeal to resume wage negotiations with CIO-United Steel Workers.

TRANSPORTATION—"No progress" reported in meeting between labor and management in effort to settle Greyhound Bus Line in 19 states; 1200 AFL operators of street car and motor coaches in Kansas City vote to leave jobs for three or four hours Saturday if company fails to sign union contract.

AUTOMOBILES—General Motors offers 30,000 returned employes a 10 per cent increase; Chrysler Corp asks CIO-United Auto Workers permission to discharge or discipline employes taking part in unauthorized strike.

FOOD—Only limited supplies of bread and other bakery goods available in San Francisco as 800 AFL bakers plan strike today, joining walkout of A9FL drivers.

LUMBER—Another group of striking AFL lumber workers reject compromise wage offer; union fight indicated as rival CIO faction plans to replace AFL as bargaining agent.

Preparations for a mass meeting of textile mill strikers Friday in Augusta, Me., were being completed today in a back-to-work movement led by Joseph E. Levalle, overseer of the poor, as picketing was re-established in Lewiston and intensified in Biddeford and Saco, Me., mills.

Labor unrest intensified in the Bay State where leather workers in Lynn, Danvers, Salem, Peabdoy, Lowell, Norwood, Woburn and Worcester will stage a one-day work holiday tomorrow in protest of wages paid in the industry and in support of a demand for a 30 per cent wage increase to meet rising living costs.

3-Way Ruml Plan for World

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—A triple-decker international policy with the long-term aim of establishing world government was put forward today by Beardsley Ruml as the only defense against the atomic bomb.

Ruml, author of the pay-as-you-go-tax plan and chairman of the Federal Reserve bank of New York, told the final general session of the National Foreign Trade Convention:

Nations must embark simultaneosuly on three programs, and at once.

The long-term program would seek to establish world government 20 years from now.

The intermediate program three to eight years off, would support and work through the United Nation organization.

The short-term program would use diplomacy, public and private, for reduction of international tensions to create the "climate" in which the other two could be realized.

British Heathens, Prelate Charges

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The bishop of Rochester, Dr. C. M. Chavasse, told the Church of England assembly today its clergy's "spiritual anemia" had left half the British population "worse than heathens.'

In a 172-page reform report Dr. Chavasse said it was impossible to exaggerate the gulf existing between the church and the ordinary life of English people.

"Today, he said, "we confront a new phenomenon—a generation that has lost God and a whole dimension of life, the spiritual dimension. Half" our countrymen believe in nothing—not even in themseelves."

How much did Victory cost?

The school textbooks of the future will read something like this:

"Victory cost the United States 325 billion dollars, 260,386 killed, 621,964 wounded, and 34,050 missing."

The figures are true, but they do not include the cost of sorrow, or the interest rate on pain, which is incalculable.

The costs of Victory did not end with the end of the war. Thousands of the men who defended us still fight for health.

The marine who was caught in the mortar fire on Okinawa will need a custom-made aluminum leg.

The waist-gunner with the scarred hands will require months of plastic surgery and training.

The infantryman from New England who is suffering from battle fatigue must have a long rest at a Veteran's Hospital.

All these men must be helped, and guided, and given the best that medical science can provide.

They must be assured of a normal, useful place in society.

It will take money to do all this . . . the money you invest in the Victory Loan—the last big bond drive.

Your country counts on you to back the men who won the peace.

Press Club Gives Truman a Piano

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—President Truman had a new piano today after a night out with the boys of the National Press Club.

Comedian Eddie Cantor, commenting on the club's presentation to Mr. Truman, said:

"If anybody needs practice, it's the President. He played for Stalin at Potsdam. Immediately afterward rumors started stirring that Stalin was a very sick man."

Gen. Eisenhower got so much applause when he was introduced that President Truman insisted he make a speech. Eisenhower complied with a "Hello, howdy and good luck."

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 25¢.

Handicapper-Hubby Sued For Divorce; Luck Is Out

Of late the married life of Mrs. Olive MacLean of Pinckney st., Beacon Hill, and her husband, Victor, has narrowed down to handicapping the horses—and not successfully—according to his testimony today in municipal court.

MacLean was found guilty on a charge of failing to support his wife, a lodging house keeper, and was given a suspended one-year sentence by Judge Jenny Loitman Barron with probation.

But before sentence was passed the defendant denied that his wife made only $15 a week from her rooming house. He set the figure much higher, and said that his chief job lately was handicapping the horses in the morning and going to the races in the afternoon, where she allegedly was slapping down $50 bets.

He added that on the last trip to the track, he dropped $100 and his "Ollie" burned up more than $160. He said he had been out of work since a Navy Yard cut recently, but was going back to his old job of selling roofing materials.

MacLean also told Judge Barron that he was troubled by more than the horses. He said his wife had ordered him out, and he had found out the reason why.

"After going to the Joy st. police," he testified, "I broke into my wife's place and I found all my suspicions confirmed." He said Police Capt. Sliney had been told of his private probe and had a talk with his spouse.

"There was nothing wrong going on at my house, and all my lodgers will tell you so," Mrs MacLean said. "He was served with divorce papers this morning, and I'm going to see that he keeps away."

Tortoise Tepee

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (AP)—Goliath, the 200-pound tortoise at the Philadelphia Zoo, lived for years in dark corners of the reptile cage because he didn't have his own winter home.

Workmen finished his enclosure only to find his 24-inch shell three inches broader than the pen entrance.

Attendants pushed him in but said they'll probably need a crane to hoist him out when summer comes.

Atomic Expert Enthralls Jury

Suffolk Superior civil jurymen today had brief hopes of learning war secrets of the atomic bomb, but the man who knows many of the answers couldn't tell them.

He is Prof. L. Don Leet seismograph expert, called as a defense witness by the William J. Barry Co., Roslindale contractors, defendants in 13 suits charging that blasting caused damage to Roslindale homes.

The jurymen pricked up their ears, and so did Judge William C. Giles, when Prof. Leet was introduced as the man who took the ground movement tests for the atomic bomb exploded in New Mexico.

Leet said he was not permitted to say how far off tests were made or what results were noted. He admitted, however, that no one was safe within a one-mile radius.

He is scheduled to give evidence on earth tremors caused by the blasting later today.

1,000 EGGS IN EVERY HEN

If You Keep Chickens

CUT THIS OUT

"The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of the hen was too short," said Henry Trafford, nationally famous Poultry Expert, for nearly eighteen years Editor of "Poultry Success."

The average pullet may lay 150 eggs or more—in second year may lay 100. Then she goes to market. Yet it has been definitely established that every pullet hatched has from 1,000 to 3,000 or more minute egg germs in her system — and may, in many instances, be made to lay on a highly profitable basis for as long as five years—if given proper care.

How to work to get up towards 1,000 eggs from hens instead of discarding them after one year of laying; how to keep up production from fewer birds, save on upkeep, cost of breeding, rearing and feeding expense, and so get more net profit from every dozen eggs. These and many other money-making poultry secrets are contained in Mr. Trafford's 1,000 EGG HEN PLAN of poultry raising, one copy of which will be sent free to any reader of this paper who keeps SIX hens or more. EGGS, this year, will be in great demand - at good prices - to take the place of rationed meat. Means real profit to the smart poultry keeper who can make birds produce. Mr. Trafford tells how. If you keep chickens and want them to pay with EXTRA EGGS, cut out this notice and mail with name and address to PENN POULTRY SERVICE, Suite 116-E, 333 North 15th St., Philadelphia 12, Pa., and free copy of the 1,000 EGG PLAN will be sent by return mail.

Earl Says Tilly Didn't Love Him

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Counsel for the sixth Earl of Carnarvon told the court today that Tilly Losch, noted Viennese dancer, was "not in love" with the nobleman when she married him at a register office in 1939.

In the Earl's suit for divorce on grounds of desertion, Holdroyd Pearce asserted that "on the day she (Miss Losch) was going in the motor car to the register office she said she wished she was not going to be married and it appeared she was not in love."

Lady Carnarvon is now in the United States and is not defending the suit. The court has ruled, however, that the earl must show that she left England against his wishes, and refused to return.

Oregon Crater Stirring Again

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The ancient crater of Mt. Mazama in Crater Lake, National Park, Oregon, appears to have resumed slight volcanic action, the Interior Department reported today.

As a result, the National Park Service plans to place a seismograph near the rim of the crater.

On four separate occasions recently, a bluish-gray smoke or gas cloud has been observed over Crater Lake.

Park Supt. E. P. Levitt said the only ready explanation was that "a blurb of smoke or gas was released from some of the vents which undoubtedly exist on the floor of the extinct or dormant crater, and passed through the water to escape to the air above."

A crowd watched him swing dizzily until the building superintendent pulled him to safety. Berkowitz, uninjured, took the day off.

THE PRIME OF LIFE CAN BE PROLONGED

Dr. Henry G. Sherman Says:

"A generous supply of Calcium results in better development of the young, a higher form of adult health, and a longer lease of what we may call the prime of life—the period between maturity and old age."
FOOD RATIONING MAY NOT SUPPLY SUFFICIENT CALCIUM, SAYS CLAUDE WICKARD, former U. S. Secretary of Agriculture.
Calcium is more often deficient in the diet than any other minerals. Calcium deficiency is a form of malnutrition that may be the cause of acidity, nervousness, fatigue, weakened heart muscles and other effects which hasten the onset of "OLD AGE" and shorten the "PRIME OF LIFE."

AM I NERVOUS?

Sleeplessness with ragged, jagged nerves may be due to a calcium deficiency which upsets the parathyroid glands causing intense sensitivity of the whole nervous system.

DO I TIRE EASILY?

A calcium starved body tires easily. A calcium deficiency may cause an upset nerve system lessening strength, energy and vitality. No person can be normal without a sufficient supply of calcium.

AM I OLD AT 40?

Old at 40, evidences of early aging, perhaps at 50 or 60, may be due to calcium deficiency. Calcium is needed, in adequate amount, in the repair and growth of body organs, tissues, cells. If your health is impaired, if you are run down tired, old at 40 and nervous because you do not get enough calcium or Phosphorus or Vitamin D or Vitamin B1 add KAL to your diet. See how much better you feel after KAL helps to build up, then maintain a normal Calcium-Phosphorus balance and help overcome the ill effects of a deficiency of the vital elements KAL so richly supplies.

Foxx Speaks At Bond Rally

Celebrating their feat in exceeding the $100,000 mark in sales of war bonds and stamps since Pearl Harbor, students of the Arlington Junior High School today staged a parade and patriotic exercises at the school.

Jimmy Foxx, former Red Sox first baseman, was a Victory Loan speaker at a noon rally at the Simpson Drydock, in East Boston today.

The second of a series of flying tours for prize-winning student bond salesmen, arranged through co-operation of United Air Lines and the War Finance Committee, will take off from Logan Airport tomorrow with students from Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill as guests.

Sales of bonds to individuals for the first two weeks of the six-week Victory Loan campaign today totalled $36,700,000 or 28.2 per cent of the State's quota of $130,000,000. Sale of E bonds is reported to have reached $13,400,000 or 20.6 per cent of the quota of $65,000,000 for this class of bonds.

BLUE CROSS

pays hospital bills for you and your family!

In Massachusetts 1 out of 3 is protected

MORE THAN 19,500,000 Americans now have Blue Cross protection . . . freedom from worry over unexpected hospital bills.

Already, one out of every seven in the nation is protected. Thousands are joining daily.

Low Cost

Blue Cross is a low-cost, non-profit, entirely voluntary plan for protecting against hospital expense. For remarkably small monthly payments . . . a few cents a day . . . it pays the hospital for services to the entire family.

The chances are one to ten that you will go to the hospital within a year . . . even greater that some member of your family will go. But Blue Cross spreads your risk over a large number of people and assumes responsibilities which very few individuals could assume alone.

Liberal Benefits

Because its membership is so large, Blue Cross benefits can be more liberal . . . for the greater the membership, the greater the benefits to each.

Most illnesses strike so suddenly that heads of families have no time to prepare for hospital expense. As a result, nine out of every ten people have trouble getting together enough money to pay their hospital bills.

If you join Blue Cross, you need not worry about the bill if you or some member of your family goes to the hospital. You simply present your Blue Cross card . . . the hospital sends the bill direct to Blue Cross and Blue Cross pays the hospital.

The chances are 1 to 10 that you will go to the hospital within a year

Mail this coupon for information today. It may save you a large hospital bill!

NEW GIANT X-RAY

The Latest Development in 50 Years of X-Ray Research

1895—Roentgen, in Germany, discovers mysterious powerful ray, names it "X"—the unknown. One year later, W. D. Coolidge, student at M.I.T., begins experimenting with x-rays. First x-ray tubes were about 25,000 volts.

1913—Dr. W. D. Coolidge, at General Electric, invents revolutionary new x-ray tube. First reliable method of controlling x-rays. This tube was 100,000 volts.

1920—Coolidge designs a completely insulated tube and transformer for a thoroughly safe x-ray unit. The first wholly safe, convenient and adequate dental x-ray outfit came out of this.

1945—NEW G-E 100-MILLION-VOLT "BETATRON"!

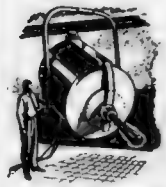
This 130-ton giant whirls electrons, tiniest parts of atoms, faster than man has ever been able to speed them before. So fast that they make the nearly 17-foot circular orbit of a doughnut-shaped vacuum tube 250,000 times in 1/240th of a second, and, striking a tungsten target, produce x-rays of 100-million-electron volts!

Dr. E. E. Charlton, left, and W. F. Westendorp, G-E scientists, designed this new machine, which generates x-rays over a thousand times as intense as the early Coolidge tube—with a wave length of 0.00025 Angstrom units, up in the cosmic ray band! These rays will penetrate a thickness of metal considerably greater than even the 2,000,000-volt x-ray unit.

But more important still may be the uses of these super x-ray machines in medical and atomic research. G. E. is making them available to medical science for experimental therapy. General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

1923—Coolidge develops a 200,000-volt "deep therapy" tube with water-cooled target. The higher voltage tube greatly reduced time required for x-ray treatments.

1933—General Electric builds multi-section tubes producing 800,000-volt x-rays. Installed in Mercy Hospital, Chicago, and Swedish Hospital, Seattle, these units have been in constant use ever since.



1940—First 1,000,000-volt unit, plus portability, making x-rays more useful to medicine and industry. Fifty-six of these units built by G-E X-Ray Corporation used in U.S. war production—even flown to England. In 1943 General Electric scientists and engineers developed the first portable 2,000,000-volt x-ray.

LIBERATOR OF BELGIUM

GEN. GEORGE S. PATTON, commander of the American Army which stopped the final desperate German drive into Belgium last winter, has been the recipient of impressive and unprecedented honors in behalf of the Belgian government and people.

Hailed in Brussels as "A Great American Warrior" and as "The Liberator of Belgium," General Patton was given a demonstration of national affection and appreciation which he had amply earned and richly deserved.

It was in strange contrast with the shameful and humiliating treatment that General Patton has been accorded by the government of his own country, although the American people are no less appreciative of his great military record than are the Belgian people.

Wherever General Patton has gone in the United States since the end of the war he has been greeted with public acclaim and shown a degree of popular affection attesting the high esteem in which he is held by the American people.

BUT IT REMAINS SHAMEFULLY TRUE THAT THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT, YIELDING TO THE VICIOUS AND SINISTER CAMPAIGN OF COMMUNISTIC PROPAGANDA CONDUCTED AGAINST HIM IN THIS COUNTRY AND ABROAD AT THE INSTIGATION OF THE RED FASCIST REGIME IN MOSCOW, CRUELLY AND RUTHLESSLY DEPRIVED HIM OF THE COMMAND OF THE ARMY WITH WHICH HE NOT ONLY LIBERATED BELGIUM BUT SET THE STAGE FOR THE FINAL DEFEAT OF GERMANY.

In America, the purported "impulsiveness" of General Patton in his public utterances has been cited as excuse for his humiliation.

But the Brussels newspaper, "Soir," comments ironically that if it is true that this great warrior "fell into relative disgrace due to his impulsive utterances" in America, it is the universal prayer in Belgium that:

"GOD BLESS PATTON'S IMPULSIVENESS WHICH LIBERATED US."

Another Belgian newspaper, "People," suggested that it should be remembered in America that the liberated peoples of Belgium and all of Europe have only praise and love for "the impulsive character and headstrong attacks against the Germans" which they associate with the name of General Patton.

"This man who admirably made war," says a third publication in Brussels, the "Libre Belgique," "will certainly remain one of the best military advisers of the United States."

GENERAL PATTON'S place in the hearts of people throughout the world, in the liberated countries and in his American homeland, is secure.

It is good to see him honored in Belgium, as he has been in France and England and in all of the liberated lands which recognized the genius of his military leadership.

It was good to see him welcomed with praise and affection on the occasion of his recent visit to America.

This demonstration of American pride and esteem will be repeated when he returns to the United States.

BUT UNTIL THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ATONE FOR THE INJUSTICE THAT HAS BEEN DONE HIM IN THEIR NAME, THEY WILL STAND ACCUSED BY THE WHOLE WORLD OF INAPPRECIATION FOR THE SERVICES OF ONE OF THEIR GREATEST MILITARY COMMANDERS.

For let it be remembered that the disgrace and humiliation which attended the removal of General Patton from command of his beloved Third Army was not HIS disgrace and humiliation, but that of the AMERICAN PEOPLE.

AMONG THE shows I regret missing is the "Grandmothers' Follies of 1945." Before me I have a program of this event which was presented by the "Grandmothers' Club" of Chicago. It appears they have a very snappy bunch of grandmas in Chicago. Why, sir, in the show under discussion they even had a group of can-can dancers. Imagine being able to see your grandmother do the can-can. It's colossal! The spirit in which the Chicago grandmas gave their show is indicated by the following lines appearing on the program:

"Common sense is good to have
But never let it master you
It may deprive you of the foolish things
That's lots of fun to do."

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—It says in the sixth edition of "Who's Who in the Theatre" that Lynn Fontanne was born in London in 1882. That would make her 63 years old now. Is that correct? A—Who am I to contradict "Who's Who in the Theatre?" Besides, it is our policy never to argue about the ages of actresses. All I know is that Miss Fontanne made her first stage appearance in 1905 with Ellen Terry in "Alice-Sit-By-the-Fire." Q—On a trip from Seattle to San Francisco I was attracted by the beauty, efficiency and intelligence of the airplane stewardess. But I couldn't even get her phone number. How do you go about getting a date with such a girl? A—Arranging a date with a plane hostess calls for perseverance and patience. After the first trip write her a formal letter complimenting her on the service rendered and send her a little gift. Make another trip on her plane and strive to further the acquaintance diplomatically. Percentage of plane hostesses who have married men they have met on planes is very high. So evidently getting a date with a flying cutie is not impossible. Just a matter of careful and studied approach. Such is the opinion of our Horses & Women experts.

"What'll I do? He INSISTS on paying cash!"

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—Stamford, Ct., recently presented a spectacle in which some officials faltered in the presence of a mob which blockaded a factory and barred the president of the company and employes who were to have made up the payrolls.

Westbrook Pegler

This is only one of many similar incidents in recent days in which the law simply abdicated. Even Governors of States have bowed in timid and illegal deference to union mobs.

In Stamford, the police are ordinarily efficient and courageous and there is no doubt that if some orderly tax-payer, suddenly gone berserk, should take a stand at the door of a department store and try to keep out the manager and the employes, the nearest policeman would twist his arm, throw him into a cab and book him for assault and disorderly conduct.

If the tax-payer resisted, the cop would clip him a couple with the flat of his hand and, if necessary, bend a club over his head.

This and the other outbreaks here cited, many of them in Michigan, point up a great fallacy and a great danger, developed under the Roosevelt government, which actually tolerated and even fostered anarchy and relieved local government of its obligation to govern, to preserve the peace and to protect the law-abiding citizen.

★ ★ ★

LEGALLY, local and state government were not relieved of their duties and officials of Stamford still have the same duty to maintain order against a union mob that they would be quick to execute in the case of a stick-up or safe-blower.

Yet the same police, available in force, failed when a union mob dared them to do their duty.

The explanation is that under 12 years of the Roosevelt technique, men elected and sworn to administer State and local governments have forgotten that law enforcement, even against union rioters, is still as much their duty as enforcement against robbers and underworld terrorists unaffiliated with unions.

They were afraid of bloodshed and parleyed with those who threatened bloodshed.

Legally, of course, these credentials confer no more privilege than a charter from the Elks or the D. A. R. Nevertheless, not only public officials and the police under them, but most of the people have fallen into a state of submission because they thoughtlessly believed that all union matters are, somehow, the business of "the guv-ment," meaning that confused and ominous monster in Washington which has diligently encouraged the idea.

SEN. JOSEPH BALL of Minnesota, a co-author of the Ball-Burton-Hatch bill to restrain the lawlessness of unions, recently addressed the subject in an article, now circulated in pamphlet form.

He is no exceptional writer, nor are his arguments new, but his position endows them with some prestige, for he is identified with that faltering, compromising school of political talk which employs the word "Liberal" and "Progressive" to disguise many proposals intended to win votes by the sacrifice of fundamental human and civic rights.

Acknowledging the national government's responsibility in the chaotic labor relations which have retarded reconversion, Senator Ball wondered, nevertheless, whether "we are not overlooking a responsibility which falls on you and me and Neighbor John, in our home communities. I refer to our responsibility as citizens to insist on fair and impartial enforcement of the laws—not Federal statutes, but our own State laws and municipal ordinances.

★ ★ ★

"WELL OVER HALF the difficulties in the way of a peaceful, civilized solution would disappear if State and local laws were enforced promptly, vigorously and impartially," he wrote.

"Lawlessness breeds lawlessness. If public apathy permits the acquiescence of local officials in brazen law violation in labor disputes to continue, sooner or later we are likely to have one of two alternatives—local vigilante committees will take over local law enforcement in this field, with all the abuses that procedure develops, or we will be forced to create a Federal police, always repugnant to our concepts of local responsibility and individual freedom.

"What is the difference between a mob, armed with sticks and stones, blockading a plant and beating up any individual who tries to enter, and storm troopers charging down the street of a German ghetto and beating up every Jew they find?"

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 14—I'm taking a running jump to say I bet Lew Ayres DOES make a picture and I bet the picture he makes is "The King of Proxy Street" for Reeves Espy at PRC.

I know Lew has been quoted as saying he was giving up the screen for the ministry. But what he actually said is: "I have had no offers for a picture. I wouldn't be interested in just any story. But lately the screen has given us many fine films with a strong spiritual message and if I were offered such a picture would like to make it."

Lew Ayres

Well, sometime this week Lew will be offered Stanley Kaufmann's novel, "The King of Proxy Street," which has a strong spiritual theme of the brotherhood of man. In fact, Espy is sending Lew a completed script—that's how far the idea has been developed. With Ayres in the starring role it will be PRC's top budget picture for the year.

WALTER HUSTON certainly bought a hot potato when he closed a deal last week for the biography of Writer Frank Harris for a movie. It's as inflammable as a match to kerosene and makes "Forever Amber" look like a sequel to "Little Women." I don't know how Walter thinks he can ever get it on the screen, but he's not only planning to make it and star in it next year, but wants his son, John Huston, to direct. But before Walter gets going round and round with the censors he'll go to New York to star in Jed Harris' new Broadway show, "The Apple of His Eye." He leaves this week-end after finishing his role in "Duel in the Sun."

BETTY HUTTON'S lawyer, Arnold Grant, is here from New York to talk about a new contract with her. Betty likes Paramount and all her bosses, but if she stays the ante will have to be raised considerably. She is asking she be allowed to make only two pictures a year and one outside if she desires, the same as the deal Paramount made with Paulette Goddard. "Of course," said Betty, "I probably will never want to make an outside picture, but if a great story comes along I would like to know I can do it. I want to spend as much time as possible with my husband. My marriage to Ted is the important thing in my life."

DANNE KAYE took time out from his busy two days spent in Los Angeles to telephone me from Jack Benny's house where he was a guest. The first American entertainer in Japan, he flew 32,000 miles with Leo Durocher, baseball expert, and Jack Snyder, his accompanist. He saw the devastation of the atomic bomb and said it is unbelievable. He spent 30 minutes with General MacArthur, who presented him with a Japanese flag. The Japanese, says Danny, are as extravagant in defeat as they were fanatical in combat. They bow and scrape to their conquerors at every opportunity. What goes on in their minds no white man will ever guess.

When Rudolph Valentino died his boss, Joseph Schenck, was with him. Today Mr. Schenck said, when I questioned him, that the story Rudy was married to Marion Bend is impossible for him to believe. "I would certainly know," Joe said. "Rudy would have told me. I think it's too bad for the memory of Valentino that this marriage story should be so widely publicized." I guess all of us who were Rudy's close friends feel the same way.

ANN SHERIDAN is conferring, or will confer with Vincent Sherman, Warner director, this week on her next picture. "The Sentence." Yes, that the very same "The Man Who Died Twice" with a new moniker. I hear it's a swell script and Vince was eager to present it to Ann himself. Offers have gone to Paul Lukas, who is resting in Palm Springs after a strenuous USO tour. Paul's account of the way he discovered a famous Hungarian traitor in an Austrian village, when he was exterminating our boys there, is thrilling. The man is now imprisoned, having been turned over to the Allies.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Mary Lou Dix, formerly wed to Al Newman, 20th musical director, and Bud Wolf are getting married this week; Ken Murray is tossing a whooper cocktail party at the Beverly Hills Club Friday for the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bergen; that sore throat and temperature of 103 has been interfering with Martha Vickers' dates with Jimmy Stewart; Jeanette MacDonald is the darling of Chicago. She was so terrific in "Faust" that she was asked to repeat the performance three times; it was a gay week-end with Mary Pickford and Wynn Rosemont tossing two of the best parties. At Mary's, Lillian Gish told me she is building the first home she has ever owned in Hollywood and has sent East for her furniture. The party was in honor of Carl and Mrs. Haad and brought out the Ronald Colmans and Elyse Hunt, among others. Elyse says she is starting divorce proceedings against Willis Hunt very soon, after waiting a year and a half for him to make up his mind.

WYNN'S PARTY was delightful—he is always such a charming host. Angna Enters was one of the most interesting guests, and we had a long talk. One of the highlights of the evening was the terrific rhumba Cesar Romero danced with Carole Landis. Dottie Lamour, who expects a baby in six weeks, had picture after picture made with her movie costar, Bob Hope. Bob, as usual, had an admiring crowd laughing at his gags and Dolores Hope was an eyeful in a beautiful pink chapeau. Gracie Allen looked like a glamor girl and was plenty good on the rhumba numbers herself; in case you have misplaced Greta Garbo, she's been hibernating at La Quinta near Palm Springs. That used to be Marie Dressler's favorite retreat. That's all today. See you tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—What would indisputably have become one of America's most cherished relics has been irretrievably lost under absolutely fantastic circumstances.

I have the facts from Mr. Jack Lait, celebrated editor of the New York Mirror. He has checked them thoroughly, through his staff correspondents who were present, and double-checked with Naval authorities.

Weird as the circumstances may sound, they are true in every detail.

Before the historic Jap surrender aboard the U. S. S. Missouri, the British government sent a priceless carved table, many centuries old, to the battleship, to be used in the signing ceremonies.

At almost the last minute, however, it was discovered the table was too small to hold the huge surrender documents. So one of those big folding tables was commandeered from the enlisted men's mess.

To disguise the fact it was only an ordinary mess table, a green baize cloth was thrown over it. The ceremonies of signing then took place.

At chow that evening the enlisted men found themselves a table short. One of them supplied the answer.

"I saw it topside with a green cloth thrown over it," he said. "A couple of you go up and get it!"

The table was brought down. The men had chow, and then the surrender table, like all the others, was folded up and shoved off to one side.

There has been the devil to pay ever since—with Capt. Stuart S. Murray, skipper of the Missouri, threatening to make the culprit walk the plank if he can find him.

The mess tables all look alike—and no one has been able to determine which served for the signing of the most important document in the human conflict!

SOMETIMES it seems to me that our Congressmen are a mite lacking in artistic knowledge and appreciation. I know this sounds harsh, but I am in a harsh mood today, having just learned that I will not be allowed to swill tea with Mrs. Robert Low Bacon.

The reason I cannot crash the tea given by Mrs. Bacon, one of our most formidable doers of good works, is that I did not sell ten tickets to the United Nations Forum. There was a piece in the papers that only persons who had sold ten tickets or more would be invited to guzzle tea on the cuff with the lady.

I do not think this is fair, because I was under an almost insurmountable handicap. Among all my friends there are not ten, or even five, who would pay dough to attend a United Nations Forum, or even show up if they were paid time and half for the chore.

I tried to induce Mr. Larry Smith, the petroleum magnate, to buy a ticket, but he took a wrong slant on the thing.

"Well, what shall we spoil our dinner with today?"

"Not me," he said. "Do you think I want to have Mrs. Robert Low Bacon pouring raw tea down my throat?"

But I started to tell you about our congressmen and their apparent paucity of artistic background. A group of them, members of the House sub-committee on War Department appropriations, have just returned from Europe.

In the distinguished gathering were Reps. J. Buell Snyder of Pennsylvania, Albert J. Engel of Michigan, Joe Hendricks of Florida, George H. Mahon of Texas and Harve Tibbott of Pennsylvania. I give all the names so as not to put the finger directly on the artistic Mr. Malaprop.

They saw many sights in their travels and when they got to Versailles they were taken to the old palace. A guide showed them the various objets d'art (French for anything that costs more than it should) and finally pointed to a huge painting.

"Many of us think this is the finest picture in the palace," he said.

"What is it supposed to be," asked one of the congressmen—the gentleman I will not identify specifically.

"It is Louis IV crossing the Rhine."

"Oh," said one congressman, "In the last war?"

★ ★ ★

LATER, the same group got to Kunming, China, where they were entertained royally. They remained three days as the guests of Maj. Gen. Henry Aurand, commander of the area.

At departure, Rep. Snyder was elected to express the appreciation of the committee. Mr. Snyder spoke glowingly of the hospitality; said they had been made to feel right at home, and would never forget the city nor its people as long as they lived.

"I would also like to extend our thanks to Gen. Aurand," he said. "As you all know, he is in command of—of—what the hell is the name of this place?"

"That's O. K. if he's not in, Ma'am. We just came to take back the desk!"

This Is My Story ★ ★ By Gen. Jonathan Wainwright

(Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in Whole or in Part Strictly Prohibited)

On June 5, 1943, 28 of the senior officers and Allied civilian governors and orderlies were separated from the others in the Tamazato camp on Formosa. The remaining 89 officers and men were ordered to pack up. They left us to rattle around in Tamazato, after our farewells and expressions of hope that they would find better treatment wherever they were going—and this turned out to be another fruitless hope.

In this the 34th chapter of Gen. Wainwright's story he tells of his transfer to another prison camp in Formosa where the solicitude of his new jailors turns out to be a sham.

It was lonesome without them at Tamazato. We had all been through so much together that we had come to depend heavily upon our numbers for comfort and the desire to go on living.

But on June 23 those of us who were left at Tamazato were told to round up our belongings. We were to be sent to a special camp prepared for us near Muksaq, also on Formosa.

We went by train in three or four hours to Karenko, where we transferred to a dirty little coastal ship and were jammed into the small hold for the night.

We had carefully hoarded the last of our South African Red Cross packages, and it was just as well we did. For we were fed nothing else that day and night.

At 9 a. m. on June 24, 1943, our boat docked at Kee-lung, the port town of Taihoku, which is the capital of Formosa. We were marched through Kee-lung to the railroad station—and a curious band of former officers and men we were, what with our burdens, our emaciated condition, the rags of what had been uniforms and, incongruously, a fat pet duck which Sgt. Hubert Carroll and another enlisted man had picked up at Tamazato. It was the only healthy living thing in the line of march.

Donald Went, Too

We were taken by train to Taihoku, which lies about 20 miles inland, ordered out of the train and all of us, including Donald (our inevitable name for the duck), were loaded into one truck and moved the remaining six miles to our new camp.

We received more rice at our first meal than I had seen at one time since my early days of captivity at Manila. What is more, it was accompanied by vegetables.

We were told we could spend 100 yen of our prisoner of war pay each month for cigarets, even a few cigars, tomato catsup, soya sauce, tea and sugar. We would even be given fruit, and we would not be forced to work if we did not care to do so.

It was all too good to be true, as the enlisted men soon found out. A few days after our arrival they were ordered to clear land for a farm. But the officers were not made to work at this time. We sat by and waited wondering what the catch was.

We did not have long to wait. About a week after our arrival we were visited by a beaming, contented-looking Jap colonel, a member of the staff of the commander of the Taiwan (Formosan) Army.

"I am Col. Sasawa," he introduced himself with a vast smile. "Is there anything you want? If there's anything on your minds, just let me know. I will fix it. You can trust me."

Killed the Goats

We looked at him, unable to answer, knowing there must be a method in what was patently sheer madness.

Our first couple of weeks were so quiet, and we had become so accustomed to work, that we found ourselves restless. We had learned from bitter experience, too, that we must be about the business of raising food. We had been removed from Tarlac before our vegetables had half matured. We had seen most of our painfully raised goats taken from us at Karenko, just when they were large enough to be eaten, and were permitted to bring only two of them on from Tamazato—both males.

So we collected money and bought 10 half-grown hogs and some chicks. Several of the senior officers also began small gardens, planting tomatoes.

We slaughtered the two goats shortly after our arrival, for we were incessantly hungry. The Jap guard here at Muksaq split our meat on a 50-50 basis, and a few unappetizing hunks of meat were all we had to show for months of labor.

Col. Sasawa and his men became regular visitors and, soon dropped all pretense about their mission in life.

One of his brightly smiling lieutenants came into my little room one day. "Gen. Wainwright," he said, "what do you want most in the world?"

I looked at him a moment. "I want to see the war successfully terminated and get back to my country," I answered.

That was his cue. "Exactly! And I know a way to do just that," he beamed.

I guess I raised an eyebrow. "If you will just write to your President Roosevelt and tell him there is no use for America to carry on this war any further."

I stood up. "I decline to discuss this matter with you," I said as heatedly as I could. "Now I will be pleased if you will leave this room."

End of Donald

He left, but the Jap propaganda department, in whose toils we were now enmeshed, was far from discouraged. Col. Sasawa sent word a few days later that we were all invited to a picnic near Shinto shrine in a pretty natural setting on an adjoining hillside.

We accepted, for there was a promise that the food would be good. And it was. We had two delicious roast ducks, which we ate until the bones were bleached . . . not knowing until we had finished (and this information came from a very grieved Sgt Carroll) that we had eaten Donald.

The Japs had grabbed our pet a few hours before the picnic, I learned.

All of us had grown attached to Donald, so none of the officers at the picnic was in a very receptive mood when Col. Sasawa stood up, belched appreciatively, and launched into an attack on the Allies.

"You have no chance of beating Japan," he cried, looking at me. "I will tell you this: It took 20,000 American troops to defeat 2000 Japanese soldiers on Attu Island. Ten to one!

"Now there are 100 million people in the Japanese Empire," he went on. "It will therefore take ten time 100 million people to defeat Japan. To move such a force against Japan, even if you had that many warriors, would be impossible. It will therefore become a matter of generations, and thus you yourselves have no hope of repatriation. None of you will live long enough."

Late in November, 1943, we received an old copy of the Nippon Times in Muksaq and in skimming through it I saw my name leap out of the page. It was a Domei dispatch:

"BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 2—President Roosevelt has promoted five United States Army officers who are in the wartime rank of lieutenant-general to the formal rank of major-general today and asked for the approval of the Senate, according to Washington reports.

"Officers appointed major-generals are:

"Joseph W. Stilwell, commander-in-chief of the United States forces in India, Burma and China.

"George S. Patton, Jr., Commander of the United States Forces in Sicily;

"Brehon B. Somervell, Chief of the United States Army Services of Supply;

"Joseph G. McNarney, Deputy Chief of Staff of the United States Army; and

"Jonathan M. Wainwright, former Commander of the Filipino-American Army in the Philippines, who succeeded General Douglas MacArthur, and who is now a prisoner of the Japanese Forces."

Jap Propaganda

I had long since had to revise my old prediction we would be liberated by Dec. 31, 1943. Our removal to Formosa had condemned all such possibility, I felt, and now at Muksaq we were swamped with so much Jap propaganda about the success of their fleet and army that I sometimes found myself wondering if they could possibly be telling the truth. There was no way to check their assertions.

(TOMORROW: Christmas at Muksaq, and bouts with the Jap propaganda machine.)

Q—I served in the Navy from May, 1941, to Feb. 1942 and was given a dependency discharge at my request. Am I entitled to state bonus, mustering-out pay and benefits of GI Bill? C. J. L., Boston.

A—Yes, eligible for all mentioned benefits.

Q—My husband has been in service for seven months and three weeks ago he left for overseas duty. How long will he be overseas? I know the points will be down to 50 December 1 and by the first of the year completely dropped. If this is so, will he be discharged after two years service. A. A., East Boston.

A—The procedure to be followed by Army in releasing men from service in lieu of the point system has not been determined, therefore I am unable to give you definite information. How long he will be kept overseas is problematical under present conditions.

Q—Has the government begun to issue "American Campaign" and World War II Victory Medals as yet? If so where can a Navy man secure his? E. M. B., Boston.

A—Medals are not being distributed as yet. However, ribbons symbolic of above medals may be obtained at any Army or Navy installation, also stores dealing in such supplies.

Q—Was discharged from the Navy due to medical reasons. Received mustering-out pay. If I am eligible for State bonus where do I apply? A. J. L., Salem

A—Might be able to obtain necessary application at Salem City Hall. If not, write State Bonus Dec., 15 Ashburton pl., Boston. Most veterans centers have bonus blanks.

Q—The 12th Armored Division is now at a staging area in France; when are they scheduled to leave for the States? Mrs. J. C. F., Dorchester.

A—No date has been announced other than alerted for shipment. Troops might be in staging area anywhere from four to six weeks, dependent on shipping facilities. Right now there are a lot of boys in these areas waiting and hoping to be shipped home in time for Christmas.

Free meeting places have been provided by the Boston School Committee, in co-operation with the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser at 14 school centers in the city where ex-servicemen can meet their former buddies, discuss organization plans and check on jobs. Information about these centers can be obtained by telephoning Dept. Extended Use of Public School, Cap. 5500, or inquiring at 15 Beacon st.

Gifts for Paper Shower

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: The other day in your column, in a list of showers for a bride-to-be, you mentioned a "Paper Shower." I had never heard of this kind of shower before, but think it might be a possible choice for me to make in planning a shower that I am going to give for a girl friend of mine. The girls I am inviting are all on very limited budgets, and the girl for whom I am giving the shower has been given several showers, such as china, glass, kitchen shower. Will you please list some possible gifts that would be appropriate for a "Paper Shower"? GRACE.

The gifts can be inexpensive, practical, as well as useful equipment for the new home. Suggestions: shelf-papers and decorative edgings for shelves; paper napkins; paper doilies, place-mats as well as various sizes of tray-doilies; bridge sets (invitations, tally cards, score pads, place cards); playing cards; paper and parchment lampshades; nests of boxes for bureau drawers or dresser drawers; scrapbooks; decorative wrapping paper; pictures; decorative paper boxes; match-books (perhaps stamped with the new initials, or with the first name of the guest of honor); wastebaskets; plain white place cards; box of bookplates; rolls of paper towels for kitchen use; boxes of small guest towels; group of memorandum pads or telephone-message cards; memorandum books for purse; boxes for pins, stamps, and so forth; engagement pad

Sometimes, for this shower, the guests give a joint gift of a paper trousseau consisting of letter-paper, note-paper, large-size cards, postcards, and, very important for the need of the engaged girl, informals. Another excellent joint-gift is a large box of cards to serve for pasting recipes. Sometimes each guest writes, or pastes, her favorite recipe on one of the cards.

Way to Halt Graying Hair

Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

NOTHING GETS A WOMAN down so much as watching that gray hair multiply with the rapidity usually attributed to the prolific rabbit. First there's one strand . . . then a patch . . . and, before you know it . . . an all-over grayness captures the head for a not-too-captivating youth-less-ness as dismal as a gray day.

What to do about it? Many women still entertain the old-fashioned attitude toward tints and dyes. They shrink from the thought of touching up their locks lest their best friends . . . in sotto voce, but audible as a stage whisper . . . criticize their valiant attempt to cling to youth as a gesture unbefitting their years. That's fallacious . . . but, also a different beauty story.

Today we're accenting an unusual product which arrests graying hair . . . has the efficacy to stop it cold in its tracks before it takes hold of the head. This toning liquid stimulates the pigmentation in the scalp and forces the new growth of hair to emerge in its natural shade. It isn't funny explaining prematurely graying hair as a family trait . . . a vitamin deficiency . . . or just an idiosyncrasy. When she has it, she thinks she's stuck with it.

Usually people with dry hair get gray much sooner and dark hair requires more pigments in the scalp than the blonde or redhead. Pigmentation occurs in the middle layer . . . between the horny outside hair and the cellular tissue layer . . . in the strands which sprout out of the scalp. When pigmentation is lethargic and stagnant . . . the hair strand fades and the color is lost and naturally it turns to gray, mousey-ashen, if you will.

This pigment toning lotion actually stimulates the pigmentation . . . brings back the vitality of the hair to a certain extent . . . and definitely arrests the graying process if the condition is attended to once the first gray strands are seen. If this tonic is applied daily or every other day . . . it will stimulate the pigmentation of the new hair coming in and it will emerge in its true color. There is a length of life for hair. If the new replacement of the snuffed out old hair is sufficiently pepped up . . . naturally-colored hair will be encouraged and created.

The creator of this extraordinary preparation told us not so long ago that people who use this pigment tonic never have dandruff . . . since there is something in its formula which is anathema to those unsightly little particles which scale the scalp. This tonic to arrest gray hair comes in two different types . . . one for the prematurely graying hair that is brown or black in color . . . and the other for light-colored hair inclined to be dry.

For the name of this toning lotion which increases pigmentation and arrests gray hair, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

LOVE MAY make the world go round . . . but it won't restore natural color to a gray-streaked, mousey head of hair. That's a little process which requires the deft hand of science . . . like a unique pigment-toning lotion which has been known to arrest gray hair and restore vitality and youthful loveliness to locks speckled with silver. That eye-taking arrow on Universal's sweater-girl Marjorie Riordan should point upward . . . to her raven tresses. Or have we lost our artistic balance?

LUCKY NUMBER 39.
LUCKY COLOR—Gray.

He's at the 'Silly' Age

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: My husband and I have always been very happy and have raised a family of children, all of whom are now married. Recently I have noticed that my husband seems rather quiet and doesn't have much to say. And the other day someone told me that my husband is taking out a woman who lives in the next block, and who I thought was a good friend of mine.

My husband has a good income and supports me and I certainly do not want to make a change this late in life. I am 58 years old and my husband is 60. I'm so unhappy over things as they are and have thought of exposing both of them. Is there a solution to my problem? UNHAPPY.

It would not be wise to make anything of your husband's interest in this other woman, who certainly hasn't proved to be a good friend. Men no longer in their first youth often go through this "silly" age. It's something like the last call for dinner in the dining-car, or one last fling, so they look around for some woman over whom they can become "silly."

My advice is to cultivate patience and a sense of humor. Above all, don't sit around and mope—go out to visit your friends, go to an occasional movie, invite your children home to see you. Do anything that will take your mind from this worry, which, after all, may not be anything serious.

Charm of Gay Nineties

By BETTINA BEDWELL

ABOUT THE nicest thing about the clothes that the belles of the Gay Nineties wore were the sleeves, and Harry Collins, one of our best-known designers, has borrowed these to put in some of his best new coats.

What this sleeve looks like, after Harry Collins has streamlined it to suit 1945, is shown in the sketch. This is a new coat from this designer, and it comes in wool in a wonderful soft blue that is neither very dark nor light Mr. Collins calls it "winter blue."

The coat is loose from the shoulders and has big patch pockets and a small collar, so the sleeves are very much in the limelight.

Puddings For Fall

By MARTHA LEE
Household Editor

ACCORDING to an old proverb "the proof of the pudding is in the eating" and now is a good time to test the truth of this statement. Everyone's appetite is whetted by the crisp fall air, and the ices and parfaits that were so popular in the summertime are taking a back seat in favor of hot puddings and heavier desserts.

Cool weather puddings are usually baked or steamed and served hot or warm with your favorite pudding sauce. Steamed fruit puddings are frequently made and stored with the idea of resteaming later whenever a quick dessert is needed. Here is a pudding which will prove its goodness through its continued popularity:

FRUIT PUFF PUDDING

2 tbsp. butter or margarine
2 tbsp. sugar
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup molasses
1¼ cups sifted flour
1 tsp. soda ¼ tsp. salt
½ cup bran
½ cup boiling water
½ cup seedless raisins
½ cup currants

Blend butter and sugar thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Stir in molasses. Sift flour with soda and salt; mix with bran. Add to first mixture alternately with boiling water. Stir in raisins and currents. Pour batter into greased 1-quart mold, cover tightly and steam about 1½ hours. Serve with hard sauce or other pudding sauce. Makes 6 servings.

HARD SAUCE

1-3 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 tsp. vanilla extract or
2 tbsp. sherry or brandy

Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and mix until light and fluffy. Beat in flavoring. Serve with hot pudding.

APPLE CRUMB PUDDING

6 medium-sized cooking apples
½ cup boiling water
1-3 cup molasses
1-3 cup sugar 2 tbsp. flour
¼ tsp. salt ½ tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. grated lemon rind
½ cup fresh bread crumbs
2 tbsp. butter, melted
1 tbsp. grated orange rind.

Cut peeled apples into eighths. Cook with water over low heat until tender, but not until they lose their shape. Pour into baking dish. Pour molasses over top. Combine sugar, flour, salt, nutmeg and lemon rind and sprinkle over top of apples and molasses. Mix bread crumbs, butter and orange rind and spread on top of apples. Bake in hot oven (400 deg. F.) 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

MINCEMEAT BROWN BETTY

1 cup mincemeat
¼ medium-sized cooking apples
1½ cups moist bread crumbs
⅓ cup sugar
1½ tsp. cinnamon
1½ tbsp. butter
2 tbsp. grated orange rind
1-3 cup water

Pare, core and slice apples; place half of apples and mincemeat in casserole. Combine bread crumbs, sugar and cinnamon; sprinkle ½ over apples and dot with half the butter. Repeat with remaining mincemeat, apples, crumbs and butter. Sprinkle with orange rind; add water and cover. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) for 45 minutes. Serve with hard sauce or foamy sauce. Makes 6 servings. This pudding is delicious served also with lemon sauce into which 2 or 3 tbsp. of wine or liquor has been dropped.

Home-Mixed Cough Syrup Gives Quick Relief

Saves You Big Dollars. And It's So Easy! No Cooking.

Here's an old home mixture your parents probably used. But, once tried, you'll always use it, because it gives such quick, pleasing relief for coughs due to colds.

And it's so easily mixed. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking is needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, if desired.

Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of truly splendid cough medicine, and gives you about four times as much for your money. It keeps perfectly, tastes fine, and lasts a long time.

You can feel this simple home mixture take right hold of a cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes irritation, and helps clear the air passages. Eases the soreness, makes breathing easier, and lets you get restful sleep.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

New Play by 'Turtle' Author Acclaimed at Hub Opening

By PEGGY DOYLE

A stage newcomer, who has the sincerity, warmth, theatrical sense or whatever it is that singles out Helen Hayes, in a play distinguished by these same attributes, made last night at the Wilbur one to file and NOT forget.

For Beatrice Pearson, who is so beautifully what the playwright and the public have in mind, and "The Mermaids Singing," the new comedy by John van Druten, Jr., are a combination that well may follow in the box office steps of that Broadway bonanza, "The Voice of the Turtle," which Van Druten also wrote and directed.

Again the playwright lifts a phrase from a poetic source for the play title. The Songs of Solomon suggested "The Voice of the Turtle." Similarly, T. S. Eliot's celebrated poem, "The Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock," provided the title for Mr. van Druten's present play concerned with the love of a young girl for a celebrated playwright.

Some intensive pruning of the play's second act and some comedy leavening of the sobering third act were indicated at last night's unveiling. These, van Druten's craftmanship may be depended on to correct.

Walter Abel left Hollywood, interrupting a career of playing dependable heavies, to portray the comedy's playwright. Under van Druten's skilled direction, Abel turns in a surprisingly sincere and untricked-up performance.

The action takes place in "any large American city other than New York," the program states. It takes no Sherlock Holmes to place it as Boston, and "the best hotel" and park to be the Ritz-Carlton and the Public Garden.

In town for the pre-Broadway tryout of his play, the author eavesdrops on a good-looking young naval lieutenant and the pretty girl with him at an evening performance, gets into conversation with them and invites them to his hotel suite for a drink.

It's all pretty glamourous as far as the girl is concerned. The lieutenant, her fiance, is quite unimpressed. The two, urged on by the playwright and one of the actresses in the cast, are forthright in their criticism of the play. It is old-fashioned. It condones its married hero having affairs. The boy admits fellows in his outfit, including the married ones, have affairs, don't talk about it except among themselves, think it's all right but know it's wrong.

The playwright begins to feel really old-fashioned and the girl proceeds to brush him up on modern art and he, being in the mood for love, is not too surprised when she admits she loves him.

It's all as sample and un-novel as that, except that there is something so poignantly young and vulnerable about the girl. Beatrice Pearson plays her that the audience comes alive with concern for her. Abel, too, wins sympathy, as the older man who willingly allows himself to be enchanted by her.

Frieda Inescort, as the girl's charmingly poised and understanding mother, is excellent. She has a particularly difficult talk to make when her maternal seventh sense warns her that her lovely daughter's interest in the famous playwright is more than casual. Beautifully written, Miss Inescort says it with admirable restraint.

Lois Wilson, as the actress who has had an affair with the playwright, turns in a thoroughly likable performance. Just the opposite of likable is the word for Jack Manning's toppling, insolent soldier-on-leave, a praiseworthy acting job. Jane Hoffman's meddling Mrs. James and Harry Irvine's stuffy professor are also fine characterizations.

SYLVIA SCARLETT

"Sylvia Scarlett," starring Katharine Hepburn, Cary Grant and Brian Aherne, is remaining a second week on the Majestic screen. On the same bill is "Sky Giant," with Joan Fontaine, Richard Dix and Chester Morris.

GASLIGHT FOLLIES

Walter Winchell said "it's hilarious," and so it is a foregone conclusion that the Old South and Tremont Theaters will do tremendous business with "Gaslight Follies," the picture produced by Bostonians Joseph E. Levine and Maxwell A. Finn. "Gaslight Follies," which opens today on both screens, features comedy from old-time motion picture and "The Drunkard," laced with some streamlined jests.

Southward to Direct History Contest

Following a meeting of the widely-known Boston educators who will help conduct the annual Hearst Newspapers American History Awards, it was announced today that Alva Southward of Technical High School, president of the History Council of the Boston Public Schools, will serve as contest chairman.

Southward was named by School Supt. Arthur L. Gould and Rev. William J. Dailey, supervisor of parochial schools in the Boston archdiocese.

The chairman emphasized the contest will be based on American history from 1781 to 1825.

The Hearst awards include local prizes of $1000 in victory bonds and national awards totaling $25,000.

Examinations for Boston participants will be held on Friday, Nov. 30, in their respective schools, at the same hours throughout the city. Examination papers will be accompanied by an essay of not more than 250 words on a subject vital to the history of the United States.

The top 41 contestants in these preliminary examinations will be eligible for a further contest in Faneuil Hall, Dec. 10, and the first three winners of this contest will compete in the national contest in 13 major cities throughout the country.

Examination papers will be graded by a committee of judges, to be announced later. The examinations will be identifiable only through code numbers, and will bear neither names, addresses or schools of the contestants, to ensure complete fairness.

All public and parochial high school pupils in Boston are eligible for these awards, with the exception of members of the families of employes of the Boston Record-American and Sunday Advertiser.

The local prizes, all in Victory Bonds, are: First, $200; second, $100; third, $75; fourth through sixth, $50; seventh through twenty-fifth, $25. There will be an additional award of $100 for a set of books on American history, presented to the school of the winner of the first award.

Nylon Stampede

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 14 (AP)—When a clerk in a downtown store showed a woman a pair of hose the purchaser exclaimed:

"Oh, they look almost like nylons."

"Nylons!" another woman shouted, and the rush was on. In three minutes there was a mob. It was several minutes before the clerk could explain.

Yank Gets Dowry, Can't Send It Home

PARIS, Nov. 14 (INS)—Military authorities disclosed today that an American soldier who received a $2500 dowry on his marriage to a French girl was unable to send the money home because of new currency control regulations.

Also hit by the controls were GI's who bit the jackpot in the French National Lottery.

Some Pros and Cons About Race Repeal

By AUSTEN LAKE

I MUST ADMIT THAT my system of figuring was brewed along the old expense account system and is therefore subject to slight errors one way or 'tother. But the following are auditor's figures, checked and sworn to and therefore reliable.

Austen Lake

So kindly give me your attention and also hold onto your hats. Because I am about to reveal the astounding sum-total of monies wagered by our thrifty citizens of Massachusetts at all horse and dog tracks since pari-mutuel betting was lifted out of sin by popular vote in 1935.

In the eleven years during which the State and the track proprietors sold grand illusions at from two to 50 smackers per copy, cash in advance, the people of our Commonwealth have bet an overall total of $665,784,103.

That ain't bottle caps! It's actual cash run through the wringers again and again while the State Race Commission and the track owners chewed off 10 per cent, plus breakage on the dime, every time a buck passed through the tills. That means that the State and tracks divvied up a grand total of $93,912,211—money that was skimmed off the top of the entire kitty and which never found its way back into the masculine pants pockets or feminine purses.

* * *

JUST A LITTLE MORE THAN 94 million dollars of the citizens' fun-money went down the drain, or at least never found its way back into the hands of its original owners. And 94 million is about 37 million more than the existing State Debt, which is $57,264,089—representing money owed or outstanding by the Commonwealth.

The tracks' share of this gigantic take was $51,004,422, while the State grabbed $32,907,789.

This is not to rebuke the customers, or the tracks, or the State. For it is the citizens' cash to spend or fritter as they please. And the State's cut of 32 millions was clear profit, except for wages to a flock of inspectors and sundry high priced officers and divers expenses, and was devoted to old age pensions, road repair, etc.

And the tracks' 61 million wasn't velvet either. Because the horse and dog operators paid some 20 millions in assorted Federal, state and municipal taxes, some of which were taxes upon taxes. Also there were fat gobs of wages to hired help, some of whom were pets of prominent politicians. Then there were race purses and upkeep. So when Suffolk Downs came to count what cash had sifted through the only thing it could lay hand to was a few annual hundred thousand gleaned by admissions, programs and concessions.

* * *

SO NOW, AFTER SEEMING to preach an anti-race sermon, I will do a little flip-flop and tell you why I will not join hands with the several purist groups which have solicited this column's aid in giving Massachusetts' pari-mutuel structure the grand old Heave-O into the gully of public disfavor.

There are three reasons why I decline these invitations, which always carry a tone of homed flattery that I could, if I would, steer thinking people into the grooves of proper thought. That is strictly the liverwurst because I have learned long ago that people like to discover what I think so they can think something different.

My three reasons for reneging on any anti-race crusade are:

(1) The people of this State, originally irked by the social restraints of the prohibition era after the last war, voted to license horse and dog gambling in a kind of emotional upheaval. It was theirs to GIVE, and in the eleven-year interval they have given to the point of agony, and it is theirs to TAKE away whenever the stage of moral stock-taking comes. The steadily swelling handles each year testify they are not ready for moral examination, which is their business and not mine.

(2) Boston lies like a kind of municipal pecan between the gambling pincers of Rhode Island and New Hampshire. It will continue to be a paper-shell nut until the pressure is removed by simultaneous campaigning for race-repeal in the two neighboring states, or by grouping the individual race commissions into a single, sympathetic body willing to curtail race meetings to sensible lengths and thus reduce the period of punishment.

* * *

THERE IS NO LOGIC in helping to heave Massachusetts race tracks over the brink as long as R. I. and N. H. operate their vacuum cleaners on either flank, inasmuch as the bulk of the race money being wagered comes from Boston purlieus and repeal would merely divert the flow from local treasuries into the coffers of adjoining states.

(3) Repeal of horse gambling would amount to cutting the ears off the gambling bug. Indeed, if the purists really wish to do something useful, they have an opportunity which has been glaring them in the eye all along. There is no need to repeal a law, no signatures to solicit and no legislation to promote. The law against bootleg betting is clear and the penalties are plain. And yet it exists, despite denials to the contrary by personages in high official places, openly and in defiance of the statutes.

Indeed I have found Boston sincere neither in its uplift nor its sin. Experts agree that the bootleg poolrooms and little chain stores remote from the track drain off more funds than pours through the pari-mutuel mills during an entire race season. The tracks work afternoons during the summer. But the handbook operators work all the time.

I will close by admitting that the only effect that I have achieved from writing this column is a kind of literary toe-hold on myself. G'Bye!

Dutton Curb on Assists Ends Ice Scoring Abuse

By BILL GRIMES

We wouldn't go so far as to state that Pres. Mervyn "Red" Dutton is responsible for the "Standing Room Only" conditions at all National Hockey League games.

But, the illustrious and forceful Mr. Dutton is entitled to take a bow for solving the "assists" problem.

Pres. Dutton

From fear or favor, the official scorers have been guilty of granting "assists" indiscriminately. Their leniency ruined any chance of evaluating the ability of players from the official records.

Pres. Dutton came into office, apparently, with an "assist" complex. At any rate, one of his first edicts was directed at the official scorers to reduce the number of assist, or else.

Because they have point bonus clauses in their contracts, or harbor the ridiculous idea that owners pay off on "assists", a great many players moan more when they do not get an assist than they do over their income taxes.

But, in view of the fact that they have never been officially notified by the league concerning the rules governing assists, the players are not wholly to blame for blasting scorers, with whom they do not see eye to eye.

The official scorers have been instructed to award assists to the player or players (not more than two) last in POSSESSION OF THE PUCK before goals are scored.

According to the foot note of Rule 83 in the N. H. L. official rule book, "By 'possession of the puck' shall be meant the act of propelling the puck with the stick. If, while it is being propelled, the puck shall touch the person of any other player, or shall hit a goal post, or shall go free the player shall be deemed NO longer in POSSESSION."

For example, if an attacking player passes the puck to a team mate and during the process of the pass the puck is touched or touches the stick or person of another player, if the other player is an opponent, there is no assist if a goal is scored.

Two years ago, 181 assists were awarded on 141 goals, during the first twenty games of the campaign. A year ago, over the same period, the scorers eased up a bit, giving 212 assists on 166 tallies. There is certainly something wrong when the assists outnumber the goals by margins of 40 and 46 in twenty games.

Chicago and Montreal have been the worst offenders.

For the 1247 goals scored during the 1943-44 campaign, the official scorers awarded 1752 assists and a year ago it was 1316 assists on 1201 goals, a reduction of 390.

The official scorers are off to a grand start from Dutton's viewpoint this season. In the twenty games played, they have lived right up to the letter of scoring, by awarding only 137 assists on 135 goals, which is as it should be and if continued will make it possible for players to walk in on owners and talk salary with authentic records of their prowess as scorers.

Jenkins to Lead Penn Eleven

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (AP)—End Frank Jenkins, who has caught six touchdown passes for the University of Pennsylvania, will captain the Quakers Saturday when they meet undefeated and untied Army on Franklin Field.

Jenkins, a hard-hitting blocker and one of Penn's best open field tacklers, is the Red and Blue's leading pass receiver, snaring 10 for 169 yards.

DaGrosa Seen At H. C. in 1946

John DaGrosa will be back at Holy Cross next year as head football coach, in the opinion of his followers and officials.

A report today had DaGrosa leaving HC after this season. Holy Cross officials, and Boston HC men said they knew nothing of any such change, and that they believed the popular football professor and orator would return in 1946.

Holy Cross is unbeaten and untied, and appears certain to get into one of the major bowl games, with only Temple on Saturday as a major hazard to a perfect season.

Devore to Return If N. D. Wants Him

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 14 (INS)—Coach Hugh Devore declared today that he expects to return to the Notre Dame coaching staff next year "if Notre Dame wants me."

He made this statement when told of a New York story which said he would leave his present post at the end of the 1945 season, and coach an eastern team next season.

He said he would be glad to serve under Frank Leahy, who will return as head coach after serving in the Navy.

Yanks' Star Finder Suits Club Staff

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Nov. 14 (AP)—Johnny Nee, scout for the Yankees for the past 20 years, today announced his resignation from the club's staff.

Nee, in baseball for 39 years, 19 as a player and manager and 20 as a scout, was the discoverer of Bill Dickey, Spud Chandler, Ben Chapman, Tommy Henrich, Dixie Walker, Johnny Allen and Atley Donald, among others.

Nee was reported dickering with another big league club.

JANIRO TO FACE ZAVALA

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Mike Jacobs today arranged a 10-round welterweight match between Tony Janiro and Umberto Zavala in Madison Sq. Garden Dec. 21.

Ace Penn Tackle Threat to Army

Huge George Savitsky, Pennsylvania tackle, has earned recognition as the outstanding football lineman of the week. The 252-pound tackle, who gets a crack at Army's famed forward wall on Saturday, easily won the Associated Press poll for his teeth-jarring performance in Penn's 32-7 defeat of Columbia on Franklin Field in Philadelphia last week.

Newspapermen, coaches and players joined in praising the work of Savitsky, who set up Penn's first three touchdowns by blocking one punt and recovering two fumbles. He was such a nuisance to the Lions that Columbia Coach Lou Little asserted "he was an All-American against us if I ever saw one." George Munger, Penn coach, chimed in with "there hasn't been any tackle as good on Franklin Field this year."

Of the other linemen singled out for acclaim Rodney Giske of Washington State turned in the most unusual feat. On one play he threw such a strong block on two Oregon players that both were knocked out.

Brown Coach Shifts Backs

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 14 (INS)—Bruins Coach Rip Engle was busy today rearranging his backfield material for Saturday's Brown-Harvard game following the loss of two tailbacks.

Engle's first blow came when Tom Kavazanjian broke his leg this week, forcing him out of the game. Closely behind that came the news Ed Netski has a pulled muscle in a leg and will probably see very little action against Harvard.

Another loss was that of Charlie Connolly, first-string end, to the armed forces.

Nip Mat Champs Fail to Draw GI's

TOKYO, Nov. 14 (AP)—Japan's grand champion Sumo wrestlers consented to exhibit their ancient muscular art to 10,000 American soldiers—but drew only 100 who found the preliminary rituals more interesting than the action.

One champion, Terukuni, 25-year-old Tokyo star, was defeated in one of the feature matches, but the audience didn't know it. Nobody told them.

"Looks like a tug-of-war to me," concluded PFC James Postergal, Pittsburgh.

Brown Gives Harvard Line on Eli Date

Harvard is quietly going about the business of preparing a surprise party for Yale when the two resume their ancient feud Dec. 1, according to the Associated Press.

With Dick Harlow back, the Crimson has come a long way since it opened what was supposed to have been an informal campaign by losing to little Tufts.

While far from the class of the Crimson teams of prewar years, the Cambridge men have been improving from week to week and have unveiled a slick passer in Charley Roche. Roche heaved three scoring aerials in Harvard's 28-7 walloping of the pretty good King's Point Merchant Mariners Saturday. In its previous outing Harvard blanked the Coast Guard Academy, 25-0.

The Harvards take on an improving Brown eleven at Providence Saturday in a game which should give the Harvard coaches an opportunity to compare notes against the Elis. Brown upset Yale, 20-7, last week.

Meanwhile, the Elis, who hold a disappointing 3-3 record, will play host to the Coast Guard at New Haven. Other Ivy League contests match Cornell and Dartmouth, and Princeton and Columbia. Pennsylvania, the circuit's unofficial champion, will oppose Army's champion Cadets in Philadelphia.

The traditional clash between Syracuse and Colgate will highlight New York State's program, while other eastern tilts include Navy-Wisconsin, Holy Cross-Temple, Indiana-Pittsburgh, Rutgers-New York U., and Lehigh-Drexel.

Frank Murray, King of 'T' Coaches, Ex-Bostonian

By JACK CONWAY

FRANK MURRAY, coach of the undefeated University of Virginia football team, is a former Boston boy . . . He is a Tufts graduate, and while in college he played baseball rather than football . . . Murray was such a good baseball player that his coach did not wish him to risk getting injured, playing football.

In more than 30 years of football coaching, Murray has only had two jobs, first with Pere Marquette and then with the University of Virginia . . . He is recognized as the greatest coach of the "T" formation in the business which is why Frank was invited by the New York football writers to talk to them on the subject.

Dick Harlow

"I found that by tutoring my charges in the 'T' formation it made it easier to gain victories," said Murray . . . "Last week I had four new backs out for the first time . . . Of the seven touchdowns scored, three were made by these new fellows, none of whom had played the 'T' before."

Dick Harlow, Harvard coach, does not favor the "T" over other formations . . . He gives equal rating to the single wing, double wing, "T" or winged "T."

"Under normal conditions," Harlow said, "any coach will win his share of games, and, regardless of what system he teaches, the coach with the eleven better football players will win the game."

If I were a football coach, I would be satisfied to start with Blanchard, Davis, Tucker and Waterhouse of Army; Dancewicz of Notre Dame, and Koslowski of Holy Cross.

★ ★ ★

Penn Has Top Line

THE UNIVERSITY of Pennsylvania has one of the greatest lines in college football, but Blanchard and Davis should crack it on Saturday . . . With Army and Navy receiving rating as the two best football elevens in the country, their clash at Philadelphia on Dec. 1 may well be billed for the championship.

If Holy Cross can win from Temple, it is entitled to get a Bowl bid . . . The chances are the Crusaders will be one of the teams named to battle in the Orange Bowl game at Miami . . . Koslowski, Holy Cross back, has had his greatest football year . . . It is likely Koslowski will do his share to upset Temple . . . Holy Cross' game with Boston College is merely a routine affair . . . The Eagles, who were not aided by any naval training trainees, will require two years to get a first class football club.

Charity Days at 'Rock

THE REMAINING four days of racing at Rockingham Park will be for charity . . . The profits of today's races will go to the Sister Elizabeth Kenney Endowment and Educational Fund . . . This drive for money is headed by Bing Crosby . . . Bing is good enough to help raise millions for charity, but he is still banned as a baseball owner because he is interested in horse racing . . . Lou Smith was the first race track promoter to agree to set aside a day's profit for the Sister Kenney Fund.

The cowgirls' race between stars of the rodeo is sure to prove exciting as well as colorful . . . he profits of the Rockingham races on Thursday, Friday and Saturday will go to New Hampshire charities . . . Racing expects to raise $5,000,000 for charities this year and by so doing boost its total contributions to charities since Pearl Harbor to over $22,000,000.

Duck Hunting Eased By Calling Gadget

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

While the ancient art of "duck calling" has been practiced in other parts of the country for three-quarters of a century, New England hunters have only recently been introduced to the magic instrument.

Pioneer of its use in this section is Warren Raymond, who staged the first exhibition of duck calling last year at the Sportsmen's Show in Boston.

This outdoorsman served as a pre-flight instructor for the Technical Training Command here during the war, handled a gun ever since he bagged birds from the family blind at Plymouth, at the age of 12.

We dropped in to chat with him at Asa Osborn's, where he demonstrated the calls in such a realistic manner that people on the sidewalk scanned the skies for an unexpected flight . . . "While in the service during the Mexican campaign," he said, "a comrade cured by skepticism of duck calling, then taught me the canvasback call and others, with such success that I discarded my decoys, for the winged quarry swung in my direction on the notes!"

The instrument, we were shown, has a small barrel of walnut or exotic wood, a stopper, and a bronze, curved reed inside. One does not blow into it, but "pants" or tongues the clever device . . . To learn its use requires constant practice—and there is no "says-tery" attached. After three one-hour lessons, a nimrod can work on the ducks, through memorizing the various calls by recordings.

Several local gunners, pupils of Warren, have been obtaining amazing results with the duck calls, pulling in birds in much the same way that the fabulous Pied Piper lured the rodents. Thus are very few wooden decoys needed.

"I get more thrill out of working in the ducks with calls than actually shooting 'em!" grinned Warren. And he meant it!

OUTDOOR O. O.'s — Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, who thrilled Boston Monday, hopes to spend his spare time battling rainbow trout, in the postwar era. The General is an ardent angler, and loves to whip a fly into a singing stream . . . Smelt are still being hooked from the Strawberry Hill Wharf, in the town of Hull, but the wharf is restricted to members of the Hingham Sportsmen's Club, since it has been overcrowded on many occasions . . . The Club's annual Turkey Shoot was postponed because of inclement weather, and will be held next Sunday, Nov. 18.

Injuries Retard B. C.'s Work Out

Boston College's depth of fullbacks was further depleted yesterday afternoon when Lou Mroz, stocky little star of last year's Salem High School's national champions, left college preparatory to entering the service.

To offset this loss it is expected that Billy DeRosa will be well enough to take part in Saturday's contest versus the University of Scranton at Fenway Park. DeRosa's knee was injured in a scrimmage held last week and was not able to start last Saturday night against Villanova as was originally planned.

Paired with him at fullback will be Gene Nash and John Queenan. Queenan has vastly improved. His potent passing defense and his booming punts saved the Eagles many an anxious moment in the first half of last Saturday's rout.

The Boston College squad took its heaviest going over of the season, and its most serious loss to date is halfback Charley Sennett. He was clipped on the first play of the game and had to be benched. It is doubtful if he will play in the remaining two games. Tom Carney also sustained quite a pounding. He, too, had to be removed from the game.

Yale Comes Up With Injuries

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Nov. 14 (AP)—The Yale football team added another to its fairly long list of injured players yesterday when Reserve Halfback Dan Wagster hurt his shoulder in a scrimmage, but two others, including Tommy Scannell, came off the injured list.

Scannell, regular fullback until he suffered a shoulder injury in the Columbia game October 20, returned to contact work for the first time and tore off several long gains.

Marty Dwyer, a reserve tackle in 1942 who returned to Yale after the season started, was back in the lineup at center, a position for which he was being groomed when he suffered a knee injury four days before the Cornell game October 27. He has a 35-pound weight advantage on the 170-pound Overlock whom he replaced.

64 to Qualify In P. G. A. Tourney

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (AP) — There has been so many new players developed during the war, and so many returning from service who will try to qualify next year, that the Professional Golfers' Ass'n has decided to allow 64 to qualify for its 1946 championship—double the usual 32.

Pres. E. Dudley, re-elected for the fifth time, said the delegates voted to boost the number because of postwar conditions.

Roslindale Stars Back for Brighton

By MIKE GILLOOLY

It will be a long, long time before Coach Fred Murray will forget this "disastrous" 1945 football season. His Roslindale High School eleven has by-passed the .500 mark in seven games as it prepares for objective Brighton next Tuesday—but the season has been anything but satisfactory for Coach Murray.

He had visions of his Maroon and Gold outfit being hailed as the District Champions at this stage of the schedule.

Last September, Coach Murray had a nifty little quarterback to general the team in George Boudreau. This 150-pound senior was to work with Dom Bright, 180-pound, three-year veteran and co-Captain Dick Ruggiero, 152. They were to operate behind a line that would have veterans in John Caulfield, 156, at guard; and Paul Brady, 150, at end; and Jack Donovan, 160, at center.

This group had played last fall, losing only to South Boston in a schedule of eight contests. They were entertaining ideas of a clean sweep this year.

But then they ran into trouble so that after the second game of the season, the six were sidelined. Boudreau, injuring his knee on a slippery floor, Caulfield, Bright and Brady will not see service against Brighton. Donovan and Ruggiero have now returned to the starting line-up—although now it's too late to jump into the contention for the District crown.

As a result of these injuries, Coach Murray has had a secondary line-up for the major part of the slate. Roslindale dropped the opener to East Boston (6-0) but bounced back for a victory over Roxbury Memorial (20-0). Then Hyde Park applied the hex (6-0) before South Boston stepped up (26-0). But now, Roslindale is rolling again with Jamaica Plain (21-0), Charlestown (13-0) and Brandeis Vocational (13-0) in its wake.

Donovan's return to the pivot post will give Roslindale an experienced spare in Bill Hooley, 160-pound senior who jumped into the breach after being groomed for the backfield. Roslindale's guards for this Brighton game will be the Glennons (no relation), Joe and Frank. Joe Glennon, a sub last fall, only goes 130-pounds while Frank, a senior, tops 160.

At tackles, Coach Murray has a pair of seniors, Ed Crossen, 165, and co-Capt. John Whittaker, 168-pounder who held the team together during its long spell of injuries. Whittaker, a thoroughly schooled veteran, is rated one of the best linemen in the intown ranks. In the absence of end Brady, Jim Davidson, 145-pound senior, and John Patchett, 145-pound sophomore, have taken over the wings.

Coach Murray spent a lot of time schooling Andy Mantineo, 140-pound junior, to take over qb, calling plays in the single wing attack. Then, he promoted Tony Festa, 155-pound junior, to take over ihb with sub Al Reddy, 154, moving into the other half. Co-Capt. Ruggiero has now returned to full, having been converted from an end, so that Wilbur Boudreau, 153-pound southpaw passer, can be held in reserve.

In this backfield, Reddy passes and kicks in a very air-minded offensive.

Other Roslindale players who will be battling for their "R's" next week include: ends—Bob Richmond, Charlie Hughes, Austin Troy; tackles—Gerald Attaya, John Clarke, Gordon Price; guards—Ed McFarland, Dick Flint; center—Kevin McArdle; backs—Patsy DeYesso, Dick Troy, George Keane.

Temple Out To Whip H. C.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (AP)—Once-beaten Temple University made plans today to knock Holy Cross from the ranks of the undefeated and untied Saturday—but Owl Coach Ray Morrison would not reveal the "stuff" that would do it.

"It isn't a matter of throwing aside measures which 've've employed all season," Morrison said. "It's rather incorporating into the offensive system a group of new plays which have been designated to use against the type of defense that Holy Cross has been showing all fall."

The Templars were toppled from the "perfect team" ranks by Penn State last Saturday—now they want to turn the tables on the Crusaders and maybe steal the bowl bid that is rumored heading Holy Cross-way.
